About this book:

This book has been created to educate job seekers about applying for jobs successfully and professionally.

Unfortunately most people think that applying for a job has one method; putting a CV together and sending it off to as many companies as possible. This is definitely not true. In order to succeed in a career and apply for a good job with good prospects and benefits we need to know how to do it.

We aren't really taught how to apply for jobs, we are taught how to do a standard CV in school, unfortunately we need to have experience applying for jobs before we know what to do and what not to do, and this experience only comes after years of trial and error.

This book will guide job seekers and provide them with the basics needed, and as they go along they will learn new ways to turn the Author's skill, experience and ideas into their own.
